Have you been invited to a group?

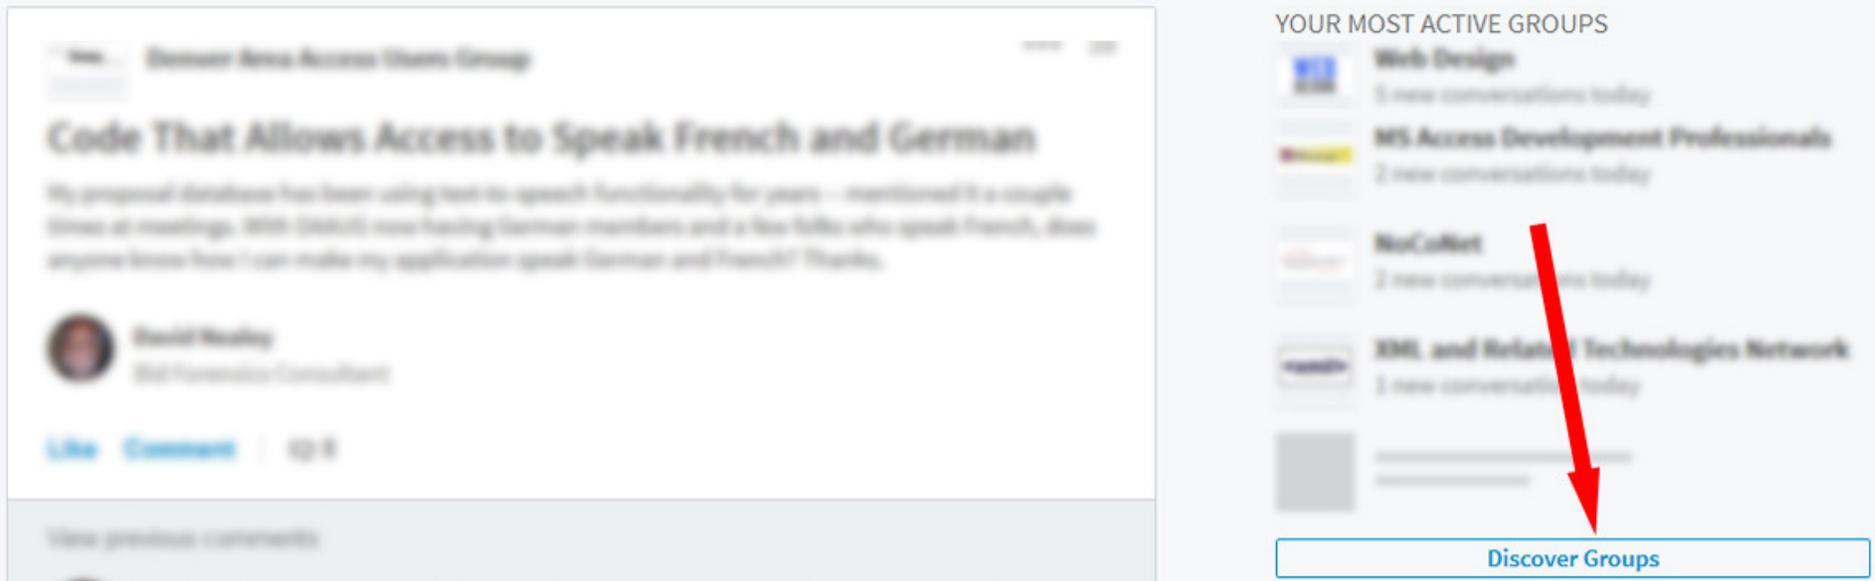

The screenshot displays the LinkedIn inbox interface. At the top, there is a search bar for the inbox and navigation tabs for Home, Profile, Network, Jobs, and Interests. A red arrow labeled "Mouse Over" points to a notification bell icon with a red "11" badge. Below this, a dark header bar shows "Invitations (11)" with a dropdown arrow. A red arrow points from the text "Check your Inbox for Messages or Invitations" to this header. The main content area shows an "Invitation to join" for a "Group on LinkedIn". The invitation is from a "Group Manager" to "Clark Anderson" and is dated "September 9, 2009". A blue arrow points from the "Invitations (11)" header to the "Invitations" tab in the main content area. Below the invitation, there are two red arrows: one labeled "Learn about the Group" pointing to a "View Group" button, and another labeled "Join the Group" pointing to a "Join Group" button. On the right side, a sidebar shows a list of "Invitations (11)" with names and titles, including Gary Phillips, Tim Forbert, and Tara McGibben. Below this is a "Messages (0)" section with a dropdown arrow.
